LaserTek Nuclear Labs announces Corporate name change and Acquisition

Toronto – May 9, 2008 LaserTek Nuclear Labs Inc. (OTC: LSTKF) announced today that it has changed its name to Hydrol-Tek International Inc. The company will be issued a new trading symbol from NASDAQ to reflect the new corporate name.

The name change is in line with the recent acquisition of 100% of the shares of Hydrol-Pro Technologies Inc, a private US company operating from Zephyrhills, Florida. The acquisition involved the issuance of 2,200,000 shares of Hydrol-Tek International Inc.

Simultaneously, a new Board of Directors of Hydrol Tek was established as Mr. Kevin Morris (former President of Hydrol-Pro Technologies Inc.) is now President of Hydrol-Tek International; Mr. Kim Etherington (former President of LaserTek Nuclear Labs) is now Vice President of Hydrol-Tek International and Mr. Timothy Russell is Secretary-Treasurer of Hydrol-Tek International.

LaserTek Nuclear Labs has been involved with Hydrol-Pro Technologies for the past months assessing how best to merge the companies and grow the new company, Hydrol-Tek with the assistance of the public equities market.

Kim Etherington, Hydrol-Tek's Vice-President, states "This acquisition of Hydrol Pro is totally in line with the past goals of the former LaserTek Nuclear Labs and will give our re-juvenated corporation solid revenue and on-going business to create and improve earnings for our investors. Hydrol-Pro Technologies, now a wholly owned subsidiary provides for dramatic growth in the vibrant Life Sciences world market. I am excited about this new corporate development and the new Board we now have to forge forward".
